

Submission

The French Economic Association (AFSE) and the Groupe de Recherche en Droit, Economie et Gestion (GREDEG) from Université Côte d'Azur (UCA) and CNRS, invite you to submit a paper to the contributed sessions at the '66th Congress of the French Economic Association' that will take place at the Institute for Economics and Management Studies (ISEM), in Nice, France, from Monday June 19 to Wednesday June 21 2017.

Submitting a Paper

Submissions of full papers are invited from academic, government and business economists in any field of economics. Papers borrowing methodologies from other sciences are very welcome too. Please visit the AFSE Congress website here for full information on AFSE Nice 2017 and instructions on how to submit your paper. Also, note that the submitting author must be a member of the AFSE in order to submit a paper. Details on how to become a member of the AFSE can be found here.

Tagging your paper as a Job Market paper.

When submitting their paper, PhD Students have the option of signaling their paper as a "Job Market paper". Accepted papers will appear with a Tag "Job Market" on the Final Program of the Conference.

Submitting a Paper to Sessions co-organized by our Partner Associations

Each year, the AFSE Congress welcome special sessions co-organised by partner associations: Association Charles Gide for the study of economic thought; the European Neuroeconomics Association (ENA), The French Association of Environmental and Resource Economists (FAERE); the French Association of Experimental Economics (ASFEE), the French Cliometric Association (AFC), the French Health Economics Association, the Association de Science Régionale de Langue Française (ASRDLF), The French Economic Association of Law and Economics (AFED), the French Association of Energy Economists (FAEE), the Research networks in International Economics and Finance (RIEF) and the French Research Association for Digital Economy. The papers must be submitted in the same way as all other papers for the AFSE congress (see above).

Submitting a Poster to the Job Market Poster Session.

In addition or alternatively to submitting a paper, PhD students have the option of signaling their interest in presenting their research in a Poster session. Posters will be set up in a central area of the congress site to attract the attention and interest of participants and can be used as a mean to increase PhD Student visibility.

Online submissions will open at noon (GMT) January, 6, 2017 and will close at midnight (GMT) March 6, 2017.

Programme

The AFSE Congress is the main one organized in France that covers all aspects of economics relevant for theoretical, empirical, policy-oriented analyses, and for practitioners.

The following Keynote lectures will be delivered:

- Inaugural Lecture: Rachel Griffith (University of Manchester and IFS)
- Jean-Jacque Laffont Lecture: Emmanuel Farhi (Harvard University)
- Presidential Lecture: Philippe Aghion (College de France)

The programme will also include academic invited sessions, “jobs for economists” sessions, round tables and lunch panels, the latter being dedicated to discuss issues on education programmes, research grants applications and/or data expertise. Also, the AFSE General Assembly and the AFSE awards Ceremony for the AFSE Edmond Malinvaud Prize, the AFSE PhD Dissertation Prize, and the AFSE-Fondation Banque de France PhD Dissertation Prize will take place during the Congress.

In addition to the main Congress programme, there will be an informal welcoming drink on Sunday, 18 evening at “Castel Plage”, one of the oldest beach in Nice, a Cocktail reception on Monday evening, at the “Hotel de la Prefecture”, a beautiful historical building located in the old town (here). Finally, the Congress Party will take place on the Tuesday evening in a famous local winery castle “Chateau Cremat” (here).

The Venue

The Local Organization Committee (LOC), chaired by Flora Bellone, will ensure that the Congress runs smoothly and are looking forward to welcoming you to Nice. Nice is a cultural and economic center of the Côte d’Azur Area (1 million inhabitants). Nice is conveniently located at just 30 minutes from Nice Côte d’Azur Airport. ISEM is located next the main Tramway line (stop at Campus Saint Jean d’Angely) which connects directly the Central Train Station in 20 minutes and connects indirectly (through the Airport Bus terminal) the Nice Côte d’Azur International Airport. Nearby attractions are the sea front and the harbor, the old town, the Museums (Chagall, Matisse, MAMAC), the Russian Orthodox Cathedral (the largest one in Western Europe), and famous Hotels as Negresco.

Full Information

Further information about the Congress, including details on travel and accommodations, is available on the AFSE Congress website here.
